Ancient Planets and Higher Beings: Rudolf Steiner's Cosmology

A Seven Week Course
Led by Grant Davis

Materialistic science sees humanity as a wonderful and temporary accident; one possible result of the workings of physics, chemistry and natural selection. Many people have a deep-seated intuition that despite the great achievements of materialistic science, this picture is fundamentally wrong. We need new methods of learning to find a richer understanding of where we have come from.

In this course, we will dive deeply into the results of Rudolf Steiner's meticulous spiritual research into the history of the planet Earth and the beings responsible for its evolution. We will pursue an understanding of the history and pre-history of mankind on this Earth and the previous incarnations of the Earth itself. From this basis we will then be able to peek into the future destiny of humanity and the planet.

One on-line readings will be assigned for each class. Artistic exercises will accompany and enrich our discussions.
