This is Your Chance – Don't Miss Out!

If you took part in last year's conference or saw the performance, you'll know how good it was. And if you didn't make it last year, well who knows how long it will be before something like this comes together again in Canada. This project has brought together an impressive community of Eurythmists, speech artists and actors who have been living a second life as characters in this mystery drama for three years now – which contributes to the feeling of palpable reality and immediacy this conference and performance offer. Rearrange your schedule if you have to, but don't miss out on being part of this once-in-a-blue-moon experience. Space is limited to 60 participants for the conference and 80 for the performance.
